

	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday
1	I have ____ apples. Some are red and some are green. Show all the ways some can be red and some can be green.	Write a story about your favorite season. Be sure to give many details.	There are 8 boys and 10 girls in Mr. Smith's 1 st grade class. If Mr. Smith has 20 chairs in his classroom does he have enough for each student?	Use a fiction book. Write to tell what the book reminded you of. Explain how your connection is like the story you read.
2	There are ____ apples, ____ cherries and ____ bananas. How much fruit is there?	Write a list of at least 5 things you know how to do.	I went fishing and caught 7 fish. You caught 8 fish. If we want to give 20 people each one fish for dinner do we have enough?	Use any book you'd like. Make a list of long vowel and short vowel words that are in your book.
3	There are ____ dogs. There are 4 more cats than dogs. How many cats are there?	Write a story about your favorite birthday	There are 37 books. We are putting the books in crates. Each crate can hold 10 books. How many crates will we have?	Read a fiction book. Write to tell what lesson the character(s) in your book learned.
4	There are ____ bears in a cave. Some more bears came. Now there are ____ bears in the cave. How many bears came along?	Write a note to someone telling them what you like about them.	You read 8 more books than I did. I read 6 books. How many did you read?	Use a non-fiction book. Write to tell what the book reminded you of. Explain how your connection is like the book you read.
5	I saw ____ deer in the meadow. Then ____ of them went away. How many deer are still in the meadow?	Write a story about a time you helped out at your house.	Each box holds 10 cookies. If you have 38 cookies, how many boxes can you fill? Will you have extras? Show proof!	Use any book you'd like. Look through the book and make a list of all of the words that have the digraphs ch, sh, th or wh in them.
6	You have ____ books. I have ____ books. How many more books do you have than me?	Make a list of behaviors you think a student should show in the classroom.	I have 5 fewer pencils than you do. You have 17 pencils. How many do I have?	Use a non-fiction book. Write to explain the main idea and details of your book.
7	You have ____ books. Some are fiction and some are non-fiction. Show all the ways some could be fiction and some could be non-fiction.	Write a letter to someone.	There are 47 red cars. There are 26 blue cars. Show proof using tens and ones to explain which color car there are more of.	Create a poster to teach about the setting of a book you read.
8	I have many toy animals. I have ____ elephants, ____ giraffes and ____ zebras. How many animals do I have?	Write a story about a special day.	You have 4 bags of apples. Each bag holds 10 apples. You also have 3 extra apples. What is the total number of apples? Show proof!	Use a non-fiction book. Teach your family about the non-fiction text features you see.
9	There were ____ kids playing soccer. Some of the kids went inside to take a break. There are still ____ kids playing. How many went in for a break?	Write and teach someone how to do something. (ex. How to make a sandwich.)	I have 4 blue shirts and 14 white shirts. How many fewer blue shirts do I have than white shirts?	Make a list of interesting words you find in a book you read. Talk to your family about their meaning.